

CALL FOR PAPERS AND CONFERENCES APPELS DE COMMUNICATIONS ET CONFÉRENCES

Contester dans un pays prospère : L'extrême-gauche au Canada et en Belgique au XXème siècle

Quand : Mai 2005

Où : Centre d'études canadiennes et le Centre d'histoire et de sociologie des Gauches de l'Université Libre de Bruxelles

Focus : Il semble « normal » qu'une population réduite à un état de misère conteste sa situation sociale et revendique de meilleures conditions de vie. Mais comment se fait-il que des pays depuis longtemps relativement prospères et bien protégés socialement, comme le Canada et la Belgique, aient aussi leurs contestataires radicaux ? Divers thèmes y seront abordés, parmi lesquels les grèves durant la période de l'entre-deux-guerres, le syndicalisme, les extrêmes-gauches, les anarchistes et l'altermondialisation. Nous sommes à la recherche d'intervenants originaires du Canada et si vous en avez l'opportunité, nous souhaiterions vous inviter à participer à ce colloque. Nous assurerons votre hébergement durant 3 nuits.

Contact : Jacques Gillen ; Courriel : jgillen@swing.be

Contact : James Ondrick, Association d'études canadiennes

Courriel : james.ondrick@acs-aec.ca

Heartland or Hinterland?

British Columbia From the Inside Out

When: 28-30 April 2005

Where: 2005 BC Studies Conference

Focus: This interdisciplinary conference welcomes proposals for panels and papers from all areas of BC Studies, including history, literature, geography, sociology, anthropology, ethnohistory, political science, and education. As the British Columbia Political Studies Association will be meeting at UNBC at the same time, panels that relate to both groups are encouraged. Conference themes include: Imagined communities; Regional politics; Health and wellness; Heritage and identity; First Nations and nationalism; and Heartland Policy and Practice.

Contact: Jonathan Swainger or Mary Ellen Kelm

Emails: swainger@unbc.ca or kelmm@unbc.ca

Annual Conference of the Association for Canadian Studies

When: 11-13 November 2004

Where: Montreal

Focus: Later this year the annual conference of the Association for Canadian Studies will explore diverse aspects of Canada's collective memory. Coinciding with Remembrance Week, this gathering of academics, researchers, policy-makers and other interested individuals from a wide variety of backgrounds and disciplines will focus on the acquisition, transmission and retention of knowledge of Canada's history and heritage. This interdisciplinary conference will also examine how cultural practices and tools for understanding the past are transmitted and transferred from one generation to the next.

Contact: James Ondrick, Association for Canadian Studies

Email: james.ondrick@acs-aec.ca

À la mémoire du Canada : souvenirs et représentations du passé

Quand : 11 - 13 novembre 2004

Où : Montréal

Focus : À l'occasion de sa conférence annuelle de 2004, l'Association d'études canadiennes se propose d'examiner les différents aspects de la mémoire collective canadienne. Cet événement coïncidera avec la semaine du souvenir et réunira professeurs, chercheurs, décideurs politiques et autres individus provenant de divers domaines et disciplines. Les conférenciers se pencheront sur les sujets de l'acquisition, la transmission et la conservation de l'histoire et du patrimoine canadien.

Society for American City and Regional Planning History (SACRPH)

When: October 20-23, 2005

Where: Coral Gables, Florida

Focus: SACRPH is an interdisciplinary organization of scholars and practitioners based in such diverse fields as history, architecture, landscape architecture, planning, historic preservation, and the social sciences. Its conference showcases studies of the past, present, and future of purposeful efforts to shape urban life. Papers are cordially invited on all aspects of urban, regional and community planning history.

Deadline: February 15, 2005

Email: sacrph@usc.edu

Influences étrangères des mouvements sociaux et culturels des années 1960 au Québec

Quand : Printemps 2005

Où : Collège militaire royal du Canada à Kingston

Focus : Nous connaissons bien aujourd'hui les origines et les événements qui ont marqué la « Révolution tranquille ». Depuis quelques années, de nouvelles recherches tentent de faire la lumière sur les origines et les conséquences de l'émergence des mouvements sociaux et culturels au Québec durant les années 1960. Ces mouvements ont manifestement été influencés et nourris par ce qui se passait à la même époque aux États-Unis et en France. Nous nous proposons donc de faire le point sur les influences étrangères qui ont parcouru le Québec dans les années 1960.

Date limite : 30 septembre 2004

Contact : Jean Lamarre, lamarre-j@rmc.ca ou Magalie Deleuze, deleuze-m@rmc.ca

21st International Conference on the History of Cartography

When: 17-22 July 2005

Where: Budapest, Hungary

Focus: For information on the conference themes and other details please visit our Web site and download the ICHC 2005 Call for Papers and Registration documents from: <http://lazarus.elte.hu/~zoltorok/ichc2005.htm>.

Deadline: 15 October 2004

Contact: Dr. Zsolt Torok, ICHC 2005 co-ordinator

Email: ichc2005@lazarus.elte.hu

Annual Meeting of the Society of Architectural Historians

When: 6-10 April 2005

Where: Vancouver, British Columbia

Focus: The session on Obsolescence in Modern Architecture welcomes paper proposals dealing with the theme of obsolescence from multi-disciplinary perspectives, including but not limited to the histories of design, art, architecture, urbanism, preservation, technology, real estate, and finance.

Deadline: 30 August 2004

Email: daniel.abramson@tufts.edu

Theory and Practice

Association of Canadian Archivists 2005 Conference

When: 8-11 June 2005

Where: Saskatoon, Saskatchewan

Focus: Are we at a turning point in the archival field? In recent years, postmodern ideas and insights, on the one hand, and the revolution in information and communication technology, on the other, have prompted archivists to reconsider their fundamental concepts and principles and to reconceive practice. How has the recent theoretical ferment influenced the methods and practice of archival work? Equally, how have changes in practice influenced theory? The program Committee invites proposals for sessions and papers exploring the relationship between theory and practice.

Contact: Mark Vajcner

Email: mark.vajcner@uregina.ca

Crossing the Atlantic: European Dimensions of American History, 1600-2000

When: March 31 - April 3, 2005

Where: German Historical Institute, Washington, D.C.

Focus: Designed to bring together European, American and Canadian Ph.D. candidates for a weekend of critical debate, the forum will take place from March 31 to April 3, 2005, in Arlington, TX. The Forum offers promising young scholars the opportunity to present their work to their peers as well as to distinguished scholars. We invite participants to discuss the variety of cultural, social, political, intellectual, and economic encounters of the European world with the North American continent over the last 500 years. Graduate students from history and other disciplines are invited to contribute to this forum.

Deadline: October 1, 2004

Contact: Christa Brown; Email: C.Brown@ghi-dc.org

The Car in History: Business, Space and Culture in North America

When: May 20-21, 2005

Where: Department of History and Munk Centre for International Studies, University of Toronto

Focus: This interdisciplinary conference seeks a diverse group of scholars interested in the history of the car in North America from the perspective of technology, business, landscape and popular culture. The conference will explore both the history of the car as a particular commodity and the ways its development affected, and was affected by, larger changes in business, government, culture and other issues.

Deadline: 30 September 2004

Contact: Dr. Steve Penfold

Email: steve.penfold@utoronto.ca

L'automobile dans l'histoire : commercialisation, espace et culture en Amérique du Nord

Où : Département d'histoire et le Munk Centre for International Studies de l'Université de Toronto

Quand : 20-21 mai 2005

Focus : Ce colloque interdisciplinaire réunira des spécialistes de l'histoire de l'automobile en Amérique du Nord en privilégiant l'étude des aspects technologiques et commerciaux de l'automobile ainsi que les conséquences de la voiture sur le paysage et la culture populaire. Le colloque explorera également l'histoire de l'automobile dont le développement a été affecté par les transformations du milieu des affaires, des gouvernements, de la culture et d'autres enjeux sociaux.

Date limite : 30 septembre 2004

Contact : Steve Penfold

Courriel : steve.penfold@utoronto.ca

Canada's Game? Critical Perspectives on Ice Hockey and Identity. An Interdisciplinary Conference

When: April 15-16, 2005

Where: Bridgewater, Massachusetts, USA (c. 30 miles south of Boston)

Focus: The Bridgewater State Canadian Studies Program will host a two-day conference on hockey, nationalism and identities, focusing on the meanings of Canada's national winter game in Canada, the United State and other countries. The conference organizers seek presentation proposals from all critical, scholarly perspectives and disciplines, but especially welcome papers that focus on six selected topics that reflect current popular and scholarly concerns with the game: 1) Hockey and Nation; 2) Myth, Invented Tradition, and the Commemoration of Hockey; 3) Violence; 4) Spectacle and Spectatorship; 5) the Gender of Hockey; and 6) Nicknames, Trash Talk and the Meanings of On-Ice Culture.

Contact: Andrew Holman; Email: a2holman@bridgew.edu

The Canadian Society for the History of Medicine

When: June 3 - 5, 2005

Where: University of Western Ontario

Focus: The theme of the 2005 Congress of the Social Sciences and Humanities will be "Paradoxes of Citizenship: Environments, Exclusions, Equity." Abstracts on other topics are also welcome.

Deadline: 12 November 2004

Contact: Shelley McKellar; Email: smckell@uwo.ca

La Société canadienne d'histoire de la médecine

Quand : 3-5 juin 2005

Où : University of Western Ontario

Focus : Le thème général du Congrès des sciences sociales et humaines de cette année est « Les Paradoxes de la Citoyenneté : Environnement, Exclusion et Équité. » Vous pouvez néanmoins soumettre des propositions sur d'autres thèmes de votre choix.

Date limite : 12 novembre 2004

Contact : Shelley McKellar ; Courriel : smckell@uwo.ca

Le 40<sup>e</sup> congrès de la Fédération des sociétés d'histoire du Québec en juin 2005

Quand : 3-5 juin 2005

Où : la Société d'histoire de l'Outaouais

Focus : L'Outaouais : des légendes à la réalité.

2005 Plains Indian Museum Seminar

When: September 29 - October 2, 2005

Where: Buffalo Bill Historical Center, Cody

Focus: The 2005 Plains Indian Museum Seminar of the Buffalo Bill Historical Center will address the theme: Native Land and the People of the Great Plains. Suggested topics for presentation include historical and contemporary tribal economies and uses of land and resources, relationship of land to cultural traditions, protection of sacred sites and places of historic significance, indigenous knowledge, artistic expressions and the land, effects of tourism and other commercial uses on reservation lands, land and resource management, and historical and contemporary issues related to land, water, and other resources. Presentations that address new areas of Native American scholarship are encouraged.

Deadline: February 1, 2005

Contact: Lillian Turner, Public Programs Coordinator

Email: programs@bbhc.org